

CATTLE GRID TECHNOLOGY c.1939!

A BOON TO MOTORISTS AND LANDOWNER.

To save motorists the trouble of opening this gate at Castle Howard, Yorkshire, a bypass has been constructed over a grill underneath which is a pit or trench some five or six feet deep. Cattle will not cross or even set foot on the grill and so there is not risk of them straying. This device also prevents careless people forgetting to shut the gate as there is no need for them to open it. see also 2 & 3.
